SENTENCES were passed to-day on the criminals convicted at the Sessions held this week. Besides the usual crop of burglars, there was a case of mauslaughter and one of bringing a woman into the colony known | Sir Henry Tyler, said the percentage of to have been sold for prostitution. With foreign to British sailors employed in the regard to the latter case Acting Chief Justice Russell admitted that the woman would be held guiltless by the law of China and might not consider that she had done any. thing amiss. The offence, however, was punishable by the English law, and he had to pass sentence on her. The prisoner had ovidently acted with the greatest kindness towards her charge, who was not new to the life to which she had been sold, and it seemed rather hard to punish her protector, whom the evidence had shown was among the best of her class. But it would have been a worse evil to subject the law of England to the looser morality of the Chineso. It is only a pity that the practice of the Colony is not more in sympathy with the theory on which its laws are founded. At the same time, it is satisfactory to find not only that these laws are applicable to such offences, but that they have at last been actually enforced. If, instead of the howl and cry of sentimentalism raised some years ago, those officers responsible for carrying out the law had 848 done their duty, the result would have been far more salutary than it was possible for any sentimental fuss to accomplish. Now that it has been made clear that such cases are punishable by the existing law, we shall dying out. International cricket matches probably not hear so much of the scandal will however be a colonial rifle team which was so freely denounced by certain friendly rivalry, cemented by admiration, persons who themselves were mainly res. sympathy, and champagne, which goes as far to create a friendly feeling between ponsible for the administration of law in the countries as between individuals. A CHINARAN was picked up in Robinson | An estimate made by the Post-office authorities shows that the number of words signalled out of London on the occasion of Mr Gladstone's statement on the 8th inst. was about 1,500,000, being almost twice as many as on any previous occasion, the high-st record hitherto being 860,000. The total number of words delivered at the various offices in the provinces wes, however, very much larger, since many of the vas taken to the Government Civil Hospi- According to the Post-office counting Mr Gladstone's speech, verbatim, amounted to 24,700 words. Supposing Mr Gladatone spoke three hours and a half, as is reported, this would give an average of 118

In the House of Commons on the 9th April. Mr Mundella, replying to Mr Addison and mercantile marine was to be found in the annual tables which showed the progress of British merchant shipping. In the year 1884 the number of British sailors was 172,000, and of foreign sailors 28,000, being a little over 16 per cent. During the list. thirty years the number of seamen had largely increased, but the proportion in the nerease of foreigners was not very great. In 1851 the proportion was 4 per cent. The Government had no power to prevent the employment of foreign seamen in the British mercantile marine.

ACCORDING to Truth, the opening of the Colonial Exhibition by the Queen, on May 4, was to be the most stately and elaborate function that her Majesty has joined in since the death of the Prince Consort. It says :- I have reason to believe that the ceremonial with was observed at the opening of the Exhibition of 1851 is to be fullowed as closely as possible on this occasion. The Queen will be accompanied by all the members of the Royal Family who are now in England, and she is to be met at the Exhibition by the Ministers, Ambessadors, Great Officers, the Speaker, and a perfect host of celebrities of all sorts and conditions, male and female. The inaugural prayer will be offered by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Save Truth :- One is always hearing complaints of the way in which the Germans are ousting our traders in all parts of the world. Whose fault is this! Not the Government's; but the schoolmaster's. Here is what Mr Romilly, the Acting Special Commissioner for New Guinea, says phont the traders in the Pacific :-

The Germans, especially, are, many them, well-oducated young men, who are sent out from home, first to not as clorks i the big houses, and then to take charge of a station. They contrast strongly with many of our own traders. An English trader who could speak French, German, and English would be looked upon as anextraordinary genius; yet nearly all young Gormans can do so.

The balance will never be restored in our favour until schoolmasters devote to French and German the time now spent, or rather misspent, on Latiu and Greek. As things are, we are continually becoming worse and worse equipped for the competition, because an increasing number of traders sapire every year to have their sous educated as gentleman : and the education of a gentleman, as understood in this country, comprises such studies only as cannot possibly be of any use in this world or the

THE power of common white-wash as sanitary agent is well known. Under the Public Health Act of 1875 the urban sanitary authority in England has power to compel every keeper of a common lodging house to have the walls and coilings of the house white-washed twice every year. interesting example of cheap sanitary work effected by this simple agent has been in progress for the last quarter of a century in the town of Burnley in England. The town surveyor, finding the poorer houses in a dirty condition, tried to encourage the people to use simple white-wash occasionally to purify and lighten them. The people were willing, but unable to afford, the expense of purchasing the brush with which to lay on the white-wash. The Corporation of the town purchased a large number of the necessary brushes, and lent them to the people at a charge of one pouny a day. The result was that the brishes were soon in great demand. During the past twelve years over twenty-six thousand brushes have been leat, and the Corporation has actually recorded a profit on the business, oven after making full allowance for brushes lost and worn out. In Burnley the Corporation not only lent the brushes, but occasionally gave sufficient white wash to those who asked for it. We commend the proposal to the consideration of the Government. Were each Inspector provided with a score of brushes to lend at a nominal rate, and were pans of white-wash kept for the use of occupiers of houses, a small sanitary reform might be inaugurated which could in aby case cost but little, and might, as at Burnley, prove remunerative.

The Stranding of the 'Dafila.

Additional particulars with regard to the Dafila were brought here last night by the steamer Partridge, which had sighted the Dafila shortly after she went aground. The Albatross, however, had only touched lightly and on the tide rising she floated off, having only been about an hour aground. The Dafile had meantime discharged about 5000 bags of rice, which lessened her draught to about 13 feet and by means of boats from the Albutross with anchors and cables she was got over the shallows. THE EDUCATION OF CHINESE

MEDICAL STUDENTS. An examination of Chinese medical students which has just taken place in this Colony reminds us of the fact that at last a systematic attempt is being made to give Chinese students a thoroughly practical and exhaustive and sound education in medical science. Hitherto, the attempts to do much good, have all stopped far short of anything like a complete system of maentirely to the fact that those gentlemen who have undertaken the instruction of the youthful Chinese in the healing art have extent that they have found it beyond their mit. power to devote the time and attention which are absolutely necessary to imabundance of material among the large! shoulder joint, their origin, insertions and number of Chinese lads now being peryous aupply. educated in English in Hongkong and the Chipa; and there is an earnest desire aupply among many of the medical men in the Fer have already remarked, there has been a lack of opportunities and time. The full course of training has been fixed at four years, but this period has been divided into two parts of two years each. Mr Fulton thereupon determined to make his way back as quickly as possible, to his wife, sister and child : but the men in the Yamen would not allow him to leave, protesting that if he went into the streets he would be killed. Thus Mr Fulton was detained over an hour before relief was sent. During all this time the mob around the house and hospital continued to increase. There were three patients in the hospital. These the rioters carried out, and then set fire to the hosp tal upon which over $800 had recently been spent. They then began to pile up straw and other combus ible material about and around the door of the house. Seeing this Mrs and Miss Fulton ran out with the child and got to the side of the river. HOME RULE FOR SCOTLAND TOO The frontier of Upper Egypt not to ex- views. Professor John Stuart Blackie has written a letter and, more than that, a poom-to the Scotsman, and the purport of it is 'Home Rule for Ever ! But it is not The post of Sirdar of the Egyptian Army, the ordinary Home Rule to which the blinkard Radical aspires that will content the great Scotchman. Assuming that the disruption is practically a fail accompli, he dismisses it from his consideration after expressing his modest surprise that not a fow persons of sound administrative intelligence are beginning to think and speak on the subject of Home Rule exactly as he has done in his own soul quietly for many years. Then comes the kernel of the communication, in the shape of a query which it is marvellous no one ever asked before. 'If Home Rule for Ireland, says the Professor, why not Home Rule for Scotland? Why not, indeed I But ing was held here last night, at which it is easy to re-echo Why not it is harder to answer Why. That is, it is harden for ordinary intellects : Professor Blackin has a pat response, and his reasons are very grave. The Scotch nationality is in danger of being lost. Scotchmen, the Professor is prepared to prove, have ceased to carry with them the genuine Scottish flavour ; and that is not all. Scotch hasies are no longer like the Baroness Nairns. No more do they sing the national ditties of the north, but defile their throats with polyglot ariettes which resolve into an unsersound modley of stupidity, ignorance, servility, affectation, and vulgarity in the masque of refinement. Such in all prisoners the Angle-Egyptian garrison of their crushing weight are the reasons for Scotch Homo Rule. And who is there that would refuse to constitute a Parliament in Edinburgh, which should restore their lost flavour to the men and cure the girls of a false delicacy which restrains them from trolling forth the songs of Roy's Wife and the Laird of Cookpen! But Professor Blackie does not end here: there is still the poem, which is to be received. as per in-

THE CHINA REVIEW. CUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY TENTH YEAR.

THIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of ' Notes and Queries on China and Japan,' has reached its Thirteenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the 'Far East' and about which every intelligent person con-nected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new de-parture has been taken, and the Review new gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction,

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of Literature on China etc., and to give critiques embodying sketches of the Most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to Editor, China Review, care of China

Mail Offico. The Notes and Queries are still continued and form an important means of obtaining from and diffusing among students knowledge on obscure points.

The Correspondents' column also affords farther and greater facilities for the interchange of views and discussion of various

Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, or any of the Modern Languages are recoived. The papers are contributed by the members of the vario s Consular, the Imperial Customs, and Hongkong Services, and also by the Missionary bodies amongst whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is assiduously cultivated. Amongst the regular contributors are Drs. Chalmers, Eitel. Brotschneider, Hirth, and Hance, Professor Legge, and Messrs Balfour, Watters, Stent, Phillips, MacIntyre, Groot, Jamieson, Faber, Kopsch, Parker, Playfair, Giles, and Piton,-all well-known names, indicative of sound scholarship and thorough mastery of their subject. The Subscription is fixed at $0.50 per annum, postage included - payable in ad-Orders for binding volumes will be promptly attended to; Address, 'Manager, Uhina Mail Office."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS. 'All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review.'-Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.) 'The China Review * * * * has an excellent table of contents. - Celestial Empire. 'The Publication always contains subjects of interest to sojourners in the Far East and the present issue will hold favourable if not advantageous comparison, with preceding numbers.'-- Celestial Empire.

'This number contains several articles of interest and value.'—North-China Herald. 'The China Review for September-October fully maintains the high standard of excellence which characterises that publiation, and altogether forms a very 14 interesting and readable number. Meteorologists; will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Fritsche, on "the Amount of Precipitation (Rain and Snow) of Peking," showing the results of observations made at the Imperial Russian Observatory at Poking, from 1841 to 1880. "Notes on the Dutch Occupation of Formesa," by Mr. Geo. Phillips, contains sems interesting information, although much of it is second-hand. The Notices of 938 New Books include a most generous and appreciative review of "The Divine Classic of Nan-Hua," and the Notes and Queries are as usual very interesting. - North-China Daily News.

A substantial and reliable Legicu which all students of China and the Chinese would do well to patronise.'—Chrysauthemum. 'The November-December number of the China Review contains less variety than usual, but the few articles are very interesting. The opening paper by Mr Herbert A. Giles on "The New Testament in Chiness " treats of a question that must necessarily' be of great importance in the eyes of all missionaries. . . Mr E. H. Parker's "Short Journeys in Szechuen" are continued, and a goodly instalment of these travels in the interior of China is given. Mr F. H. Balfour contributes a paper of some length entitled "The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Empire," which will be read with genuine interest by students of Chinese history A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Queries, one of which 'On Chinese Oaths in Western Borneo and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete

following notice of the China Review:-The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, some what similar to that which has been filled in India by the Colcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the secumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable ; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked or from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinege Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly Bome translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese post-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. O. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that 'Notes' and 'Queries' are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar
